YOUR SUPPORT CREATES OPPORTUNITIES AND TRANSFORMS LIVES

Finding His Voice: Teddy's Story

Five-year-old Teddy is full of curiosity, joy, and personality. Born with Down syndrome, he began speech therapy at just four months old. Though he doesn't use many words yet, Teddy expresses himself through gestures, signs, and a smile that lights up every room.

When he started school, his family wanted to ensure he had consistent communication support across all settings—home, therapy, and the classroom. Having brought Teddy's older sister to Origami before, his mom knew exactly where to turn.

That's when Teddy's speech-language pathologist at Origami began working with him and his favorite communication tool—an iPad program called Proloquo2Go, lovingly known as his "talker." Teddy's team at Origami learned the program so they could align therapy goals with what Teddy was practicing at school. Together, they built a shared language for Teddy's whole support team.

The results have been remarkable. Therapy sessions at Origami are filled with music, play, and smiles. Each week, Teddy grows in confidence and independence, proudly using his talker to communicate his wants, needs, and thoughts.

"Before Origami, it was hard to know and understand what Teddy wanted. Being able to better understand his needs has been amazing for all of us."
